

TheTopTens

TheTopTens is a website that discusses and makes lists about various topics. This page and this list pretty much explains why TheTopTens is so very rotten.

Why It's Rotten

1. A major issue with TheTopTens is that the lists are made and voted by random users (including anonymous users) and not professional critics. This leads to many ludicrous claims (especially those revolved around rip-offs), such as:
 - The Wii U is "a Wii knock-off" (both are made by Nintendo).
 - Auto B. Good is "a rip-off of Pixar's Cars" (the former was released in 1998, 8 years before Cars, making it false to say that).

- Digimon is a rip-off of Pokémon (though Digimon actually started as a Tamagotchi-inspired toy geared to males, while Pokémon originated as an RPG.)
- LJN was the second worst video game developer of all time (LJN was actually a publisher like Electronic Arts and Activision).
- Doug Walker and TheMysteriousMrEnter are both Social Justice Warriors (which is very false; both are against censorship and political correctness, even though Doug did demonstrate some SJW-ish behavior).

2. Among the contenders of the Best Video Games of 2016 list is Hitman: Blood Money, which actually came out in 2006, 10 years earlier.
3. Many immature users, due to the fact that people aged 13 and older can register an account on this website.
4. Many users will blindly hate on things like Liv and Maddie, Teletubbies, and Disney's Frozen in order to spark fights with the user Disney1994 (see WIR reasons #8 and #40).

5. Comments with no grammar, and comments with no grammar complaining about people with no grammar.
6. Some people complain about things that happened in the past, such as Nintendo discontinuing Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection (in 2014), when you can just use a third party connection called Wiimifi to get on instead.
7. The site is infested with toxic fanboys, most notably those of the pre-movie seasons of SpongeBob SquarePants, rock and metal music (especially the latter), Sonic the Hedgehog (especially the Classic era fans), Nintendo, Disney, and to some extent by some, Vyond.

- Most of them also pander towards nostalgia or SJW beliefs. Although to a lesser extent, some are even Anti-GamerGate.
- Most of them cannot handle criticism or respect opinions, either.

8. The hatreds on the site can be just as toxic as the fandoms, and there are plenty of them (PewDiePie, Donald Trump, Justin Bieber (they do target others as well but Justin Bieber is the main victim out of them all), Disney Channel, Cartoon Network, Nickelodeon, Frozen, Chicken Little, Liv and Maddie, My Little Pony: Friendship Is Magic, preschool shows, especially Teletubbies, Barney & Friends, Caillou, Dora the Explorer, and Peppa Pig, Religion, Anime, Serena (Pokémon), One Direction, Princess Peach, Ariana Grande, and many more.) While some of these things may have constructive criticism, others are hated or disliked for such reasons as "It's overrated" (My Little Pony:

Friendship Is Magic and Frozen are the worst cases of this), "they're for babies" (the preschool show hatred in a nutshell), or because a certain user/certain people like them (Liv and Maddie is hated because it's Disney1994's favorite show. Part of the hate for Teletubbies is also because of it being another one of Disney1994's favorite shows. At one point, users were intent on hating BOTH of these shows because of them being Disney1994's favorites, and they somehow thought that hating his favorite shows would make him want to respect their awful opinions, even though they never respected his, proving that they are hypocrites. Additionally, the "It's overrated" excuse even applies to things like Frozen that people like and that are popular.)

9. Some users will go as far as voicing their desire to assassinate celebrities they hate (i.e. Justin Bieber, Nicki Minaj, Ariana Grande, Cardi B, Lady Gaga, Katy Perry, Rihanna etc.).
 - Some users celebrate the deaths of the celebrities they hate like when some users made of XXXTentaction's death in 2018.

10. Some of the lists they made are highly biased and notably inaccurate, even to "public list" standards. And lists that contain Dead-disrespecting.

- In their All-Time Worst People In History list, Donald Trump and Justin Bieber are considered worse than Benito Mussolini and Ivan the Terrible. How can a controversial president or a bad singer be worse than dictators and tyrants?!
- In the Worst Things Ever list, Justin Bieber was at one point considered worse than Adolf Hitler, Hell, racism, and the 9/11 attacks. Singing terrible songs is not even close to being worse than killing six million Jews, burning in hell, being extremely racist to ethnic groups, or an act of terrible terrorism.

- In the Most Overrated Singers list, they added artists that are dead and aren't here to defend themselves such as Michael Jackson, Elvis Presley, Kurt Cobain, Aaliyah etc. It seems that these jerks have absolutely NO RESPECT AT ALL for the dead.

- In fact, Justin Bieber is number 1 on every worst list. Everything, his songs, movie, and even himself are number 1 on every worst singer and movies lists.

And yet YouTube Rewind 2018, a video made by the YouTube team, that has the most dislikes on YouTube, is not worse than Bieber? That makes no sense. And besides, Bieber has improved later on in his life.

11. Besides being biased and inaccurate, some of the lists on the site are simply sickening and atrocious, such as Top Ten Users of TheTopTens With the Stinkiest Farts , Most Smelly Animal Poos , and Top Ten Reasons Why Farts are Better Than Facebook (and no, these are not BuzzFeed titles). There are also outright abusive lists such as Top 10 Reasons Why Blaze the Cat Haters Should Go to Prison . They even have Top 10 Reasons Why Adolf Hitler Is Better Than Justin Bieber . Again, singing terrible songs is NOT worse than killing six million Jews.

12. Many users tend to label practically ANYTHING as overrated. Even Sonic the Hedgehog , considered by many as one of the biggest failures in video game history, is called "overrated" by some. Basically, they will label anything as overrated if it's popular (like Frozen) or simply terrible (like Foodfight!). One comment about Sonic the Hedgehog even said "It's overrated because it exists". Well, then, so is this site that exists and is terrible! (TheTopTens, not what you're reading right now).

13. When there isn't hate, there's constant circle-jerking.

14. There are some users who will trash particular things for very ridiculous reasons:

- Some users will trash the Ferrari LaFerrari just because its top speed isn't as high as cars like the Koenigsegg Agera R (a car built for breaking production speed records).
- Many users hate things with large fanbases ONLY because of their fanbases and nothing else, even when the fanbases aren't even BAD. In fact, one list on the site claimed that "there is no such thing as a good hatebase". And that was the topic of that list, "Reasons Why There Is No Such Thing As a Good Fanbase".

If that's true, then there are no good HATEbases either!

15. Lots of troll users, such as KoolGuy2218. And because you can vote anonymously, you can get away with spam trolling and a lot of the time those voters are worse than the users themselves.
16. Lists like Most Hated Countries are filled with xenophobic comments that upset some people of the countries listed. Even worse, the administrators do nothing about it.
 - Also, a user called "kim1001" sent death threats to people who like South Korea.

17. There are many list topics that are sexist and/or just plain offensive.

Lists like "Reasons To Hate Boys" and "Reasons To Hate Girls" exist, as well as lists like "Ten Worst Religions", which is filled with hate comments towards Islam and Christianity.

18. There are some users from India who keep using bots to submit votes in lists like Greatest People , and yet the admins do nothing about it.

- The admins also claim that it's a surge in traffic of real people for some reason [1] .

19. The website is poorly scripted and filled with bugs. You can easily follow yourself and edit other people's comments if you know enough about web programming. It is also vulnerable to spam voting, spam comments, and spam likes.

20. A user named "Piplup" disrespects opinions, and made a list about why child abuse should be legal . She is also very sexist, and disrespects autistic people. She also gives Pokémon a bad name. She's also one of those people who say "If you don't like it, go away." In fact, she even tried to make a list entirely about heterophobia, and said that every straight person is homophobic.

Thankfully, that list wasn't approved. She also made a spam list titled "Little Mic" (she was drunk while she made it, but that's still too little to say.)

21. Another user named "NickebackLinkinPark4Eva" is the biggest example of users who wish death. He made a list of Top 10 Celebrities Who Deserved to Die in 2018 in which not only did he wish slow and painful death on celebrities he hates (e.g. Ariana Grande, Justin Bieber), but he also went too far celebrating the death of Stephen Hawking, Stephen Hillenburg, Avicii, Stefan Karl Stefansson, Stan Lee, and XXXTentaction just because he found their work or discoveries "overrated" and nothing else. Just because you find something overrated DOES NOT mean you should wish death upon their creators.

22. Another user named "Kitten2015" wished death on the writers of Bob's Burgers all because they write episodes for Bob's Burgers! Hating a show is one thing, but this is taking it too far. She also hates the Super Mario franchise and bashed people who like it. Another thing about her and Bob's Burgers is the fact that she accused Bob's Burgers of being a rip-off of The Middle, but this doesn't seem to be true. She also accused Peppa Pig of being a rip-off of Olivia when in fact, Peppa Pig came first (Peppa Pig started in 2004, but Olivia didn't start until 2009.)

23. You can get suspended unfairly for very stupid reasons. Yet admin never suspended or banned much worse users such as Piplup and NickebackLinkinPark4Eva.

24. A number of lists have been ruined by trolls. One especially notorious example is "Top Ten Episodes That Should Be Created In Season 10 of SpongeBob SquarePants". It started out as a somewhat neat list for SpongeBob episode ideas before trolls discovered it and proceeded to flood the list with episodes and episode plots containing content that would be inappropriate for SpongeBob such as assault and murder (SpongeBob Assassinate JFK), poop and pee (Different Way, which involves SpongeBob peeing into Sandy's mouth), nonsensical crossover episodes (Caillou Meets Spongebob), sex (Spandy Day), episodes with absurd lengths (Sandy Moans, which goes on for ONE YEAR), rip-offs or combinations of infamous SpongeBob episodes (Another Pal for Gary, Are You Whatever Happened to A Pal for Gary's One Coarse Fired Doofus Face Splinter with Sandy's Little Yellow Baby Vision Buddies in the Wringer?), and even ideas that have nothing to do with SpongeBob (A Honey Badger Eats Caillou's Head).

- What's ironic is that none of the episode ideas actually got made for season 10 of SpongeBob, likely because Nickelodeon doesn't accept unsolicited episode/script ideas, thus rendering the list ultimately pointless.

- Predictably, some of the more immature users ended up using the "Top Ten Episodes That Should Be Created In ((season X of) series)" format to list fictitious episodes of shows like Liv and Maddie, Barney & Friends, Dora the Explorer, and Teletubbies that involve the cast being beaten up, humiliated, or killed. Some of the ideas on those lists are taken directly from the Season 10 ideas list, or are just different variations of hated SpongeBob episodes (examples: A Pal for Dora, One Coarse Dora).

- Also, a Madeline list also contained an idea that was about killing a person that isn't even in Madeline.[2] , and to make matters worse, Rebecca Spark was responsible for ruining that list.

25. Many users cannot handle criticism. For example, when one user wrote a rant on the website, they responded with things like "Get out weakling!" and "Then what are you doing on here?".

26. The character fandoms in the site are no better than the hatedoms, if not, much worse, a good example of this are fanboys and fangirls of Buttercup from The Powerpuff Girls, who are known for treating her like she was perfect (not realizing she can be unlikable at times), bashing on Rainbow Dash 24/7, and even thinking she would beat characters like Donald Duck, Mario, Sonic and even Kirby.

27. The most popular list on the site "Music Artists You'd Like to Perform at the 2012 London Olympics Opening Ceremonies" is extremely flawed in many ways:

- First, the comments are way to over-liked and some entries like Jackie Evancho, Dimash Kudaibergen, etc. are bot-voted.
- 2012 Olympics are long gone and yet a lot of people are still voting and liking already overliked comments. The admins do nothing about it.

- Majority of the entries on the Top 10 are taken over by Asian artists and British singers aren't even on Top 50. The topic is London Olympics for crying out loud. Besides, what do BTS, Dimash Kudaibergen, and other ones on the list have to do with London Olympics?
- The popularity of that list spawned several spin-offs like: "Music Artists You'd like to see Perform at the 2018 Olympics Opening Ceremonies", "Music Artists You'd Like to Perform at the 2022 Tokyo Olympics Opening Ceremonies", etc. And, as a cherry on top, the 2022 Olympics (a winter one) will be hosted in Beijing, not Tokyo.

28. The lists often have the same thing appearing more than once on the same list, causing much confusion among the users and readers.

- They also have things in lists that don't even objectively belong. For example, Adventure Time in the Worst Nickelodeon Shows (though the show was rejected by Nickelodeon in favor of Fanboy and Chum Chum), Sanjay and Craig on Worst Disney Channel Shows and Worst PBS Kids Shows, and many more. Sometimes, they will do this BECAUSE they want something that they hate on every worst list on the site. For example, Disney's Frozen on Worst Non-Disney Movies, and High School Musical on Worst Disney Channel SHOWS (it's a Disney Channel MOVIE. Though, right now it has its own series, but the listing on the site was added YEARS before High School Musical became a series.)

- Another list is the list "Top 10 biggest animated Cash cows." Where people added live-action shows such as The Walking Dead and Doctor Who to the list.

29. The updates on the site are no better.

- In the site's earlier days, there were forums and the ability to down-vote comments, but they were later removed in an update for unknown reasons. However, it is most likely that the down-vote option on comments was taken down as part of "The Policy" because Admin is against people disliking other users' comments. Similarity, the lists "Worst Users of TheTopTens" and "Most Overrated Users of TheTopTens" were taken down, and users cannot list their least favorite users on their user page anymore. In addition, minus marks on comments that were thumbed down in the past no longer show up on the list, even when they still exist. However, voting thumbs up will lessen those minus marks, to the point that the minus marks will no longer exist.

30. Lots of drama, controversy, fights, and arguments often happen on the site.

- One infamous controversy was the Waluigi controversy.

31. Some users (such as Rustlers) claim that cyber-bullying isn't real and that they are just words on a screen when some of the victims of cyber-bullying may even attempt to commit suicide or even DO IT FOR REAL, all because of "harmless" opinions.

- Rustlers are also responsible for many users' retirements.

Predictably, they were glad over it, proving that they have no shame whatsoever in their awful actions and are even proud of said awful actions.

32. When the users are commenting on something (shows, games, songs, etc.) they hate, they attack basically everything related to it such as the creators, actors, and fans by making abusive, offensive, and toxic statements like "Black death plague and ISIS is zillion better than this" or "Only idiots enjoy it". And then they go and call these types of statements "opinions".

33. The admins of TopTens are extremely lazy. They don't take down lists like "Reasons Why Adventure Time is Better Than Ebola", when the two have NOTHING in common whatsoever. The only reason why they don't delete lists is because they want users to keep comments that they made. They even said this in the terms of use.

34. One user in particular (Gamecubesarecool193) even claimed that another user's death

(Disneyanime1234) was a "great thing". And his reason for this was "because she was probably annoying and only had like three friends", even though the same could be said about him as well. Thankfully though, he eventually retired.

- Not to mention that he even faked his own apology and even threaten to burn Frozen fans just because they like the movie. This has even made him to be considered to be one of the worst users on the site.

35. The users worship the website like bunch of cultists. They not only always say "TheTopTens is the best in every way" and cannot accept the criticism of the website, but also bash sites at Miraheze like this one BECAUSE of this article and other articles like it.

36. The site is filled with metalists who treat metal music as if it was a religion and bash other genres.

37. Many of the users are Moral Guardians, Edgelords, or just have no respect on anything that they cannot accept, and even make fake statements to "prove" their disrespect.

- Rebecca Spark aka Nature Cat 1998 is one of the worst users yet. She's a compulsive liar who spreads false information about TV shows, disrespects opinions, and is overall toxic. For example, she hoaxed an old version of Nature Cat called Fred and the Nature Gang. This so-called "old version" of Nature Cat is just her trying to make the real show look bad by saying it's a terrible reboot of a cartoon that originally aired from 1979 to 1994. She's hoaxed other Nature

Cat rip-offs, such as Nature Cat Tales.

- She also abused several users (namely Rainbowkid38 and Caropoo to name a few) on the site. Thankfully, she was tricked into retirement by rustlers.
- There were even rumors about her being a pedophile for this reason.
- A user who hates anime commented "90% of fanart for western cartoons is drawn in a dull generic bishie style" and defamed those artists calling them "hating western cartoons", "obsessing over anime", and even worse, this person then said the art styles of eastern animations are garbage and should be hated. Then they followed that up with repulsive racist statements. That comment now has 200+ likes and the admins, as usual, have never done anything about it.

- Another example is SirSkeletorThe3rd, a user keeps making posts to attack specific groups of people just because they like something he doesn't like. He frequently uses abusive, malicious, and even racist language which you cannot even imagine, such as calling one group of people "idiots" just because of their profile pictures, once he even said "we should've just gone ahead and nuked Japan a 3rd time", and the admins, once again, have never done anything about it.

- TwilightKitsune, similar to SirSkeletorThe3rd, also insults others who have different opinions than her by using offensive terms like "they are retards", "they are a disgrace to humans", and so on. Even worse, she falsely claims to "love you all!" when she ONLY loves or even LIKES her friends. And her friends believe her to be an Angel when she is not the Angel they say she is. For example, she that Disney1994 should have committed suicide, and she said that SpongeBob should have crippled Liv and Maddie instead of Mrs. Puff in Demolition Doofus. Yes, SpongeBob should not have crippled Mrs. Puff in that awful episode, but what did Liv and Maddie do to deserve it any more than Mrs. Puff? Also, because Liv and Maddie didn't start until 2013, and Demolition Doofus aired in 2012. Plus, Liv and Maddie is a live-action teen sitcom from Disney Channel, not a kids' cartoon from Nickelodeon. But the whole reason she even said this, is because like many users, she hates Disney1994 for loving Liv and Maddie. She also hates him for loving Teletubbies and Disney's Frozen. In fact, she does NOT love everyone, as she hates Disney1994 for these reasons. And THAT was why she said Disney1994 should have committed suicide. Thankfully, he did not, but he is less active now, and STILL unpopular (read WIR reason #40 for more info).

- Another user named OnyxtheOcelot also made a comment about China and the Corona-virus, wanting The Great Wall of China to fall on them. He also harassed the user Rainbowkid38 for hating on Nick's logo, leading for Rainbowkid38 to delete his account. However, he later returned as Madelinefan113, but that account is just barely active now.

- Another user is SpaceGoofsGeekerboy (aka the infamous RedheadXilamGuy.) who attacked someone for liking Superjail!.
- Another user to do this is Kevendis, who shoves his beliefs (Atheism) down other user's throats. He even caused the Jesus Christ hatred on this site in the first place, and also insults Islam and Christianity by calling them "nonsense".

38. Lots of racist comments.

39. Many users bash on religions; for example, many users hates Islam and even post Islamophobic comments. Another example is Jehovah's Witnesses who, though less common than Islam, still get loads of hate comments. And don't get us started on Atheism, and yet, they do nothing about Satanism (which is far worse than most religions).

40. The Disney1994 hatredom is the most toxic, hypocritical, and insulting hatredom on this site yet. They hate him for lashing out on their awful opinions, but do the same to him, only worse and more frequently.

Examples:

- They bully him for liking Liv and Maddie, Teletubbies, Chicken Litte, Frozen, Gordy, and even The Fox and the Hound just because he has stated that The Fox and the Hound is his favorite film.

According to their logic, it's not OK to consider The Fox and the Hound the best movie ever even when The Fox and the Hound is a great and sadly underrated Disney classic. Yet these same people have NO PROBLEM AT ALL with other Disney movies being praised, including MCU movies and Disney acquired Star Wars films. Basically, they will hate EVERY OPINION

Disney1994 has, just because Disney1994 always mentions that certain opinions are awful and overrated. They include ones on this very page, such as hate for Frozen and other overhated things Disney1994 likes.

41. Another toxic fandom is the GameCube fandom. On the "Worst Consoles" list, we see fans of the console even saying that people without a GameCube had "no childhood". Really? Not everyone had a GameCube as a child! Thankfully though, these users were suspended and even retired.

- They also harassed the user N64Dude for not liking the GameCube either, and yet they bash on other consoles, proving the hypocrisy of the site even further.

42. The site is also infamous for its backstabbers and hypocrites. Many users backstab people for no good reason at all, and are also two-faced and/or hypocritical. The two-faced users pretend to be nice at first, but eventually reveal themselves to be the jerks that they are later on. The hypocritical users will love something one minute, and hate it the next. That, or hate it one minute and love it the next. An example is VideoGameFan5. He claimed to LOVE Disney's Zootopia at first, but later claimed that he in fact hated the movie the whole time.

43. Admin has made TERRIBLE changes to this site that make it much worse. An example is on the list "Top Ten Worst Cartoons Ever", Fanboy and Chum Chum was taken off because apparently, being a CGI show means it doesn't count as a cartoon anymore. So by that logic, Foodfight! isn't an animated movie anymore just because it's CGI. RIGHT.

44. The entire website and userbase seem to be permanently stuck in the early 2010s, as they all think that Justin Bieber, preschool shows, and Disney's Frozen are the worst things ever and are worse than Hitler (yes, they actually believe that), when almost all of these are irrelevant now in 2020, and there are worse things out there: 6ix9ine, Blood on the Dance Floor, offensive TV shows and movies, etc.

45. As if the site itself wasn't awful enough, the userbase is even worse. MUCH worse. As it consists of the following:

- Immature 9-year olds who think they're cool when they bash on Niche-audience shows.
- People who literally treat everything that they hate like it's worse than Hitler (Godwin's law).

- Metalheads and toxic Pop fans are the most infamous example.
- Trolls and Cyberbullies.
- And perhaps worst of all, many people on this site think that their opinions are the ONLY opinions that matter. Even worse, some people don't even think that ANY opinions matter. They even say things like "disagreement is great!" or "opinions are harmless!" In fact, this is WRONG! If they even knew what awful opinions even are and what we even MEAN by awful opinions, they WOULD be sorry for all these things. AND THEY SHOULD BE SORRY FOR IT ALL! But no, apparently opinions are supposed to be beds of roses to these guys. Even things like wanting World War III or mass murdering or shooting schools.

- Though there are a small number of users who aren't like this, but they often leave due to the toxicity of the site, have been banned by admin, and some have even died.

46. Eventually, the site has gone so toxic that even the Miraheze Stewards are planning to add it to the blacklist.

- On top of that, a user even tried to make a RfC for the same thing.

47. A good number of users even support trolls. Because BarneyTheDinosaurRocks and other trolls are apparently "comedy geniuses" to these people. WE WISH we were making that up!

- On top of that, whenever someone mentions Gen-18, they can act rather salty and praise the trolls for them to leave.

48. Speaking of Gens, Generations are pretty pointless. As there are 21 gens despite the site only being 15 years old. And it's not even 2021 yet!

49. The admins are also pretty dumb when it comes to sorting things out.

- For example, on the image gallery of Madeline (the DiC series) (The character from the cartoon). , one of the images is the show's title card. Last time we've checked, French girls and cursive writing don't have much in common.

- Similar things also happened to Babar and Seven Universe where they used the character instead of the show's title card.

50. On one list involving Jojo Siwa, A 15-year old, they apparently think Pedophilia's okay. Pedophilia's not okay and will never be. In fact, they even don't care if it's illegal or not and use the "I'm a teen" excuse. That doesn't excuse that.

- This is also very ironic and EXTREMELY hypocritical as they hate pedophiles and yet they accept this. On top of that, they even want all pedophiles to die.

51. Immature manchildren are also on the site. As one user (who's 9 years old. Someone who shouldn't be on the site) even called a 19-year old a 3-year old just for liking Yo Gabba Gabba.

- That same user also falsely accused Justin Bieber for being a SJW. Just because someone's overhated doesn't mean that they're a SJW. So according to that logic, Donald Trump would be one.

Redeeming Qualities

1. The ability to make your own Top 10 lists is an excellent idea on paper, but the execution of this site is what ruins it all.
2. There are some good users who are actually not toxic like Minecraftcrazy530 and bookgirl1. However, they unfortunately left the site years ago, probably because of the toxic nature of it all. And the saddest part is, the site wasn't THIS BAD back when bookgirl1 was here. It only got worse after she left.

3. You can remix your list, which is a good thing because you can put things that deserve their rankings in the Top 10. The more detailed the descriptions on your remix are, the higher your remix is on the front page.
4. You can be entitled to your own opinion.
5. There are a number of decent and good lists still on the site.
6. Some lists are ironically funny to read.
